Bulgars Summon 30,000 Greeks for Onslaught on Forts; Servians to Aid

WORST MODERN BATTLE EXPECTED TO BE FOUGHT

New Peace Terms May Halt Battle; Austria Prosecuting Martial Activity

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Vossische Zeitung tonight claims indisputable authority for the statement that Austria "commenced extensive military movements this afternoon." Vienna dispatches say the war ministry has ordered mobilization of the three first reserve classes. Railroad centers have been commanded to prepare for troop movements. Departmental activity at Vienna indicates that grave developments may be expected.

ATHENS, Nov. 22.—Indications that the Balkan allies will venture all on a terrific attack on the Thessalonica fortifications are seen in an order for thirty thousand Greek troops to join the Bulgarians before Constantinople. Servia is expected to send large reinforcements, the attack to be under the direction of Bulgar General Savov. The Greek fleet will make a simultaneous attempt to force the Dardanelles.

Fresh Turkish levies are arriving from Asia daily. Experts predict that the bloodiest battle of modern warfare will occur within a week.

NEW PEACE TERMS MAY BE OFFERED BY BULGARS

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Dispatches from Sofia say the Bulgarian cabinet is considering a modification of the peace terms. A new set of demands will be sent to Turkey. This is believed to indicate that Bulgaria realizes that Turkey is not as hopelessly beaten as supposed. It is generally believed in diplomatic circles here that Turkey will now reject all peace proposals.

EUROPE PUZZLED BY SUDDEN END OF PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

LONDON, Nov. 22.—All Europe is puzzling over the sudden termination of peace negotiations between Turkey and the Balkans. Nazim Pasha's recent successes at Thessalonica are believed to be responsible for the sudden Turkish change of front. Experts seem to agree that Turkish resistance will be futile. Little verified information regarding the Thessalonica situation or progress reported on the new proposals for peace negotiations is available here. Diplomats are silent, all professing to be amazed at Turkey's sudden abandonment of the armistice.

Large quantities of ammunition and stores fell into the hands of the Greeks. The Turkish soldiers who succeeded in escaping through the Servian lines around Monastir number about 30,000.

SCHRANK GOES TO ASYLUM

Committed to Oshkosh Asylum for Criminal Insane on Alienists' Report

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 22.—Alienists employed in the Schrank case having issued their official report declaring insane John Schrank, Colonel Roosevelt's assailant, Municipal Judge Buckus today committed Schrank to the criminal insane hospital at Oshkosh. He goes there tomorrow.

Schrank showed no emotion when the report was read by Chairman Becker. He made no comment on the findings, which read: "We find, first: Schrank is suffering from insane delusions, grandiose in character and of the same systematized variety. Second: In our opinion he is insane at the present time. Third: On account of the close relations between his illusions and the acts with which he stands charged, we believe him unable to confer intelligently with counsel or to conduct his own defense."

The report was signed by the five alienists comprising the commission. Smith, 407 North Birch, shoes driving horses to perfection.

JOHN PATRIETA, MURDERER, CAUGHT

Santa Monica Man Shot Wife's Brother to Death Then Fled to the Hills

WIFE SHOT CHAUFFEUR; MISTOOK HIM FOR SPOUSE

Chauffeur Will Recover; Cause of Murder Believed to be From Late Quarrel

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 22.—John Patrieta, who last night shot and killed his brother-in-law, Saul Valiscahe, and then escaped from his wife who sought him with a shotgun to avenge her brother's death, was captured this morning at a ranch near Beverly Hills by Detective Ricos and a posse. He made no resistance to arrest.

Jack Randburg, the chauffeur, shot by Mrs. Patrieta, who mistook him for her husband, will recover. Randburg drove the car in which Patrieta went to the home of his brother-in-law, and had walked up to the porch of the house after the murder to see what had happened. Mrs. Patrieta, who had rushed into the house after her brother had been slain at her feet by her husband, mistook Randburg for the murderer and shot, wounding him in the knees.

The Patrietas had been married but four months and had separated. It is believed the murder is the result of a quarrel the two men had as to the manner in which Patrieta treated his wife. Patrieta fled immediately towards the foothills after the murder.

PENSION PLAN NOT FAVORED

Congressmen Disapprove; are Planning to Provide for Presidents

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The announcement of the Carnegie Corporation plan for the pension of future American ex-presidents with $25,000 annually to permit of them to devote their time and knowledge to the public good, has met with widespread comment. Presidents' widows will also be pensioned unless they re-marry. In Washington, the government officials almost unanimously disapproved of the Carnegie plan to pension ex-presidents. The general opinion was that the acceptance of such a pension would be beneath the dignity of the recipients. Taft was busy on his congressional message and was inaccessible to get an opinion.

CONGRESSMEN ROUSED TO SOME PLAN OF PROVISION

Congressmen are discussing plans to have Congress provide for ex-presidents. Many favor W. J. Bryan's plan to seat them permanently in the Senate or the House.

From Oyster Bay came the news that Colonel Roosevelt flatly refused to comment on Carnegie's presidential pension plan.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR JOHNSON

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—Governor Johnson yesterday issued the shorted Thanksgiving Day proclamation on record to the state archives. COAST SCHEME AROUSES A PROTEST

Local Chamber of Commerce Asks That no Change be Made on State Highway

SENDS TELEGRAM TO GOVERNOR JOHNSON

Committee From Beach Towns Now Working in North on Pet Scheme

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to fight the renewed agitation recently started to divert the route of the state highway up and down the state to the coast route. At the meeting of the directors last night the matter was taken up and was discussed at some length. It stands on the proposition, and W. W. Zimmerman, chairman of the committee, said that the route would be taken through Orange county, but the beach towns have never given up the hope of securing a coast boulevard as the main highway, and recently a committee was sent north to work on the project.

Last night the directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided that active steps are necessary to let it be known exactly where Orange county stands on the proposition, and A. Zimmerman, chairman of the committee having the good roads work in charge, was instructed to send a telegram to Governor Johnson outlining the position of the body.

The following telegram was sent immediately after the meeting: "Governor Hiram Johnson, Sacramento, Cal.

"We understand beach towns have committed in Sacramento working for state highway along coast. Eighty-five per cent of county's taxpayers desire La Habra, Fullerton, Anaheim, Santa Ana route and have recently voted $1,270,000 bonds to build county system connecting up with that route, and respectfully request that that route be used as state road. "SANTA ANA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. "W. A. Zimmerman, F. H. Case, G. W. Minter, Committee."

Standard Oil political gifts and its congressional activities will be the line of the Hearst examination. He will be asked for unpublished letters between the Standard officials and congressmen. When Archbold testified before the committee he declared that some of his letters were stolen and some were forged.

CHINO RANCH IS GREAT PRODUCER

Raises 5 Crops of Hay Since Middle of April—Also Yields $1200 on Beets

POMONA, Nov. 22.—What is considered among hay men a remarkable showing was accomplished by J. J. Houlihan with 30 acres of alfalfa on his Chino ranch this season. The 30 acres were planted to alfalfa during the middle of April and are being cut for the fifth time in its first season. The yield has been more than four carloads. This is far in advance of results usually obtained during the first year's stand. On this ranch this season eleven acres of sugar beets produced the owner net receipts amounting to $1200.

ONE MAN KILLED, ONE IN JAIL RESULT OF ATTACK ON BURGLARS

While Revolver Was Aimed at George L. Bates, Deputy Sheriff G. C. Law, Shot To Save Man's Life—Dead Man Is Donald Coleman; Woman Involved

Donald W. Coleman, a burglar, was shot and killed last night by Deputy Sheriff Law. Coleman and Charles Rall were attempting to enter a house near the corner of Fifteenth and Durant streets when Law and George L. Bates came upon them. Law shot the burglar after the burglar had snapped his revolver once at Law and twice at Bates. Law shot to save Bates and himself from being killed. Rall was captured. Five shots were fired, all by Law.

Coleman lived on Sycamore street near the corner of First with his mother. They came here from Des Moines, Ia., three weeks ago.

When killed Coleman was using a revolver stolen from Ray Wilson. It had two cartridges in it. Rall had a revolver stolen from E. V. C. Pomeroy. Today in Rall's room at the Robertson House on West Fourth street many articles stolen in burglaries at Orange and Santa Ana were found.

Implicated to the extent that she often met Coleman here, in Anaheim, and possibly in Los Angeles, Mrs. C. E. Walker of Delhi, may yet give information that will aid in the recovery of more stolen property.

Deputy Sheriff Law's act is upheld beyond question by Sheriff Ruddock, the district attorney's office and all of those familiar with the facts. Law and Bates showed remarkable bravery.

"I am glad that a man working for me did what Law did," said Ruddock. "When that burglar had the drop on him he had the nerve to draw his gun and fight. I praise him to the skies. He did the right thing."

At about 7 o'clock last night Geo. L. Bates, former city engineer, started from his home at 1502 Durant street to a neighbor's to get some milk. Law's home is at 1510 Durant, to the north of Bates' place. The house where the shooting occurred is a vacant house opposite Law's. The house is owned by Valentine Dubois. The house being vacant was dark, and it seems to have been the system of the burglars to seek entrance to houses found dark early in the evening, for then it was almost certain they would find no one at home.

Bates saw two men across the street. They walked by the vacant house, turned and went back, and walked into the yard. Bates immediately suspected the men were burglars.

He went to Law's house, knowing Law to be a deputy sheriff. He told Law what he had seen. Law got his revolver and flashlight, and the two men walked across to the vacant house. Seeing no one in front, they proceeded toward the rear on the north side. When they had gone almost to the rear, a man jumped out from the corner of the house in front of them, leveled a revolver at them and in a determined voice yelled: "Throw up your hands, both of you, you."

Instead of obeying the command, though the other man had the drop, Law pressed the flashlight and threw a stream of light on the man. Instantly the burglar pulled the trigger, and the snap of the revolver was followed quickly by the report of Law's gun. The shot missed. The burglar turned and ran.

Snaps at Bates Bates was unarmed. As the burglar

CHARTER CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN UP IN A FEW DAYS

A movement is under way to organize a campaign of education in support of the proposed new city charter. One of the leaders in the movement said today: "That there will be some opposition to the charter seems certain—there is always some opposition to every progressive movement of a large nature. Many people are constitutionally conservative, some of them to the point of reaction. Moreover, there is some evidence that 'politics' will cut some ice in this matter, and there is said to be some 'personal feeling' involved, based upon the fact that the charter, if adopted, would take effect about eighteen months before the present city administration's term of office expires.

"As to this point," continued the speaker, "the present city trustees went into office pledged to submit a special charter to the people within two years, and all the other officers were elected or appointed, and accepted their respective offices with a full knowledge of that fact. "A few people seem to think that the city doesn't need a new charter—that it isn't large enough—and it will be the purpose of the pro-charter organization to convince these people that they are wrong. Also we feel that if selfish opposition should develop the people have a right to know its source and nature, in order that they be not misled in so important a matter."

FIGHT RIGHT ON FOR JUST COUNT

So Says Gov. Johnson in Ringing Message on Los Angeles Count Situation

SAYS UNJUST DECISION MUST NOT HALT JUSTICE

Calls on Every Progressive in Southern California to Aid in the Battle

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—Characterizing as unjust the decision of the appellate court on the election situation in Los Angeles and referring to the status resulting from the contest brought by the Democrats as due to efforts of "hired thugs at the polls" and "hypocritical pretence of judicial decision," Gov. Johnson lengthily telegraphed to Meyer Lissner urging the Progressives to continue the fight. He declared it immaterial who gets California's electoral vote but of the utmost importance, the manner of counting the votes.

Gov. Johnson's message reads: "It is reported in the press that the Progressives, because of the court's decision in the matter of the canvass of Los Angeles returns, are going to quit. I trust the report is erroneous."

Governor Johnson continues, saying: "The votes legitimately cast by our men and women must be counted as cast. I hope therefore every Progressive in Southern California will make every effort to see that the Los Angeles vote is squarely counted, and that the decision of the voters will not be altered or overturned by unjust judicial decision or otherwise."

Gist of the Decision

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—The gist of the court's decision follows:

"It is the opinion of this court that the Board of Supervisors, acting as a board of canvassers, have no authority to take extrinsic evidence with reference to returns.

"It is not authorized to call in the precinct officers to alter, change or correct the returns, but where the returns are complete, save and except the authentication thereof, the election board may be permitted to complete the same by adding their signatures thereto.

"It is not authorized to reject the tally-lists and accept the result as declared in the certificate, if there be a variance between the two. Its duty is to reject the result as declared by the election board and accept the tally lists where there is a conflict between them.

A peremptory writ of mandate is ordered to be issued, directing the respondents to canvass the election returns in accordance with the conclusions set forth in this opinion."

COURT DOUBLES BOND IN CASE OF EDWARD SMYTHE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—Prosecutor Miller announced that after the direct examination of McManigal had concluded, thirty witnesses would be examined, then McManigal would be recalled for cross examination.

The court increased the bond of Edward Smythe of Springfield, Ill., a unionist on trial here for illegally transporting dynamite, from $5000 to $10,000. Legal lights say this is a significant trend of the cases.

News of Local Athletics and Sports

GREATEST YEAR SCHOOL HAS KNOWN

ANAHEIM, Nov. 20.—The Anaheim High School is looking forward to the greatest year of its existence. The new buildings are the pride of the city and the best in the county at present. There are six new members in the faculty, and nearly two hundred students in the school. Although this is not the largest educational institution in Orange county, it is, and has been for the past two years, contending for the highest honors in scholarship and athletics. The debating society has already shown great improvement over last year's work and promises to equal the school's record of 1907, when the banner for the championship of Southern California was hung up in Anaheim. The first debate of the year, with Santa Ana, last Friday, showed that the Anaheim boys are excellent speakers, inasmuch as the team brought home the Davis trophy for the second time. On this coming Friday evening Walter Spaeth and Hans Storm will represent this school in the debate with Hollywood High School, on the Panama toll question. Both Mr. Spaeth and Mr. Storm are experienced debaters, having participated in debates for this school for the last two years. Both are seniors this year and they are looked upon to be the main support of the school. Other debaters are being trained and in the preliminaries already held for the past and coming debate they have pressed the older ones for places on the teams. William Webb, Howard Krause, Earl Spencer and Ashleigh Chamberlain are rapidly developing into first-class debaters. The school is very enthusiastic about the debaters and has shown its interest by the way the students supported the team at Santa Ana. Nearly one-half of the students were there to root, together with a great many more outside boosters. The attendance at the basketball games is evidence that the school and town are ready to support a winning team.

Out of the five practice games already played Anaheim has won four and tied one. The team is much stronger than ever before. Practically every one on this year's team played last year on the first team, that won second place in the Orange County league. Injuries received in football greatly reduced the team's chances for winning the championship, but these have been eliminated this year, with football.

Clarence Beebe, the crack forward, is an old timer at the game. He played basketball in the grammar grades and has held his present position on the high school team for the last three years, and is likely to hold it next year, too. Clarence is a valuable track performer, too; he is absolutely peer of the half-mile and mile runners of this state. He took both first places in these grinds at the last Southern California Inter-scholastic track meet in Los Angeles and got third place in both at Berkeley competing with all runners on the Pacific coast.

Arthur Hemmerling, the other forward, is improving with each game. He is fast and knows the game thoroughly and has made the first team for the last few years. "Art" and "Buck" are a hard pair of basket shooters to beat.

Raymond Elliott, at center, has had but little difficulty in gaining possession of the ball at the jump. He is somewhat experienced, having played in that capacity for the last three years on the Anaheim team. Ray is especially good at guarding, but can roll in a basket now and then as the necessity arises. Possession of the ball is a great factor in running up a score, and the Anaheim center can be depended upon to get it most of the time.

Floyd Fergus, the captain of the boys' squad this season, is an experienced player. He played forward on the Santa Barbara High School team before coming here and has held the position of guard on this team for the past year. His ability earned him the captaincy of the team this season. Floyd is an excellent guard and can take the ball down the field with ease. His experience at forward is a great help in rolling the ball into the basket.

Edwin Miller plays at guard this year, at least that is what his position is called. Ed is all over the field and in the right place at the right time always. He shoots baskets with great skill, and nearly as often as the forwards themselves. Ed has been a valuable man in basketball since he entered school here three years ago, and has played in some games every season since then. Miller is so speedy that his guards get tired following him, for he certainly does know how to travel and cover the open parts.

Will Webb has been under the doctor's care since school began, and it is feared that he will not be able to play ball this winter. Webb is a valuable man and has played on the team for the past three years. He was conceded by all to be the best guard in the county last season, and was the only one in the league that could keep the crack Huntington Beach forward, Loxley Livernash, from effectively scoring. Will's place is being well taken care of by Miller, and it is doubtful if he will play at all this season.

The team as a whole is fast improving under the direction of Walter Hall, the new coach, and will be in fine shape to play the boys from Orange next Saturday in the first league game of the year.

The girls' team is also improving, although they have their first game to win. The Orange girls beat them by the score of 15 to 7 and the Santa Ana girls won, 15 to 8. The forwards are not as strong as those on teams from this school in past years, but they are learning the game fast. This is the first year of basketball for all of the forwards and it is natural to expect a few defeats at first. Their season is a long one and will give them plenty of time to win some games. The second league game for the girls is also at Orange on next Saturday, and their third game of the season will be a practice game with Fullerton tomorrow. This will put the girls in good shape for their second tussle with Orange, so a good game is to be expected.

MOTORCYCLE RACES CREATING INTEREST

Prizes Have Been Received;
Some Fast Riders and Machines to Take Part

(By F. H. MITCHELL.)

The big turkey day will soon be upon us, and there is sure going to be something doing at the Santa Ana race track in the shape of motorcycle races.

The prizes have been received and part of them have been put on display in the west window of the Turner Shoe Company.

Hubert Kittle, known as "Gunboat" expressed his mount to Henrikson Bros., local Indian agents. Kittle was formerly in the navy. He rides under the national colors, the Stars and Stripes. Kittle's Indian will be on exhibition after tomorrow in one of the prominent display windows in the center of town.

"Speed" Rognon will send his mount down the first of the week. Rognon is a rider who knows no fear, uses his head and sure goes some. Rognon hails from Salt Lake and has a great reputation as a board track rider.

Local interest is at fever heat. The Excelsior people have come out and are getting their speedy seven into condition and will be out to defend their former records.

The Harley flock will be out in full force and they are going after those prizes, so there will be some going to best them.

The Indian headquarters are working quietly, having very little to say. The only thing they will say is that there will be plenty of Indians on hand, and that they will have plenty of "sap," as Henrikson, their star rider, says.

The match race between the Torpedo, "Flying Butcher Bird," and Flying Canary bird is causing lots of talk as these machines are all of older models, their speed is deceiving and will no doubt spring a surprise or two.

A CARLOAD ARRIVED TODAY

Touring Cars & Roadsters $1050

With Factory Equipment, Price

FOUR CYLINDER LONG STROKE MOTOR—SELECTIVE SLIDING GEAR TRANSMISSION—106 INCH WHEELBASE—CENTER CONTROL—FULL FLOATING REAR AXLE—32 HORSE-POWER.

Equipment:

This is merely to give you an idea of the changes and improvements in the Hupmobile line effective Oct. 1st, 1912.

It includes, as you see, the 32 h. p. models on the 106-inch wheelbase chassis, the touring car and torpedo roadster.

The Hupmobile comes to you fully equipped and ready for the road with every accessory for driving comfort.

The Hupmobile stands in a class by itself—it is absolutely without a rival in design or specifications among motor cars selling around $1000.00.

Distinctive in design, with grace and strength of line, Hupmobiles are distinguished on sight from the common herd of cars.

They show kinship with the most expensive cars built, in their unique style, quality of material, approved principles of engineering—in everything except wheelbase and excess luxury.

Among the new features of the "32" equipment are the mohair top with envelope, Prest-o-lite tank, Jiffy Curtains, and rear shock absorber. The trimmings are black and nickel; standard color, royal black.

By our peculiar design, we are enabled to get our cars closer to the ground than any other car that does not use the underslung device. The advantage of this construction is a minimum of side sway and wind resistance; it also diminishes the possibilities of skidding and makes it almost impossible for the car to turn over, and in addition it helps the extraordinary pulling power of the long-stroke motor.

With the long-stroke motor itself, we have obtained greater pulling power, easy acceleration, and remarkable flexibility on high or low throttle.

The conveniences of center control with both front doors accessible; the oil gauge; the gasoline tank compactly arranged under the shroud, with its two gallon reserve tank; the arrangement of throttle and spark adjustment on the dash leaving the steering wheel free are conveniences you will readily appreciate.

TOMATO CROP SETS RECORD

Northern End of the County
Has Shipped Great Quantity of the Product

ANAHEIM, Nov. 22.—The largest and best tomato crop in the history of northern Orange County is at the present time being shipped. During the last week the total output reached twenty-eight cars, the highest mark for any one week in the history of tomato growing in the county.

Of the twenty-eight cars shipped, sixteen were put out by Manager D. Osborne of the California Vegetable Company's packing-house, twelve by Manager Meyers of the Pacific Vegetable Company's packing-house. The cars averaged ten tons each. Shipments were all made to eastern points where these late California tomatoes find an eager market at excellent figures to the shippers, fancy prices to the retailers, and the top-notch prices to the consumer.

Concerning the quality of this product being shipped from Anaheim and Fullerton this year, both Mr. Osborne and Mr. Meyers are highly enthusiastic. They state that it has never been excelled and is bound to prove a great boost for Orange County products in future seasons. The yield is well ahead of previous years, notwithstanding the fact that the first of the season there was rain which it was feared would damage the crop seriously.

Important Deal
An important realty deal has just been closed here, indicating the increase in value of both Anaheim city and close-in property. Dr. J. L. Beebe has sold his residence property on West Center street to W. H. Swett of Garden Grove for $16,000. Dr. Beebe purchased the property seven years ago for $4,500. In the deal with Mr. Swett Dr. Beebe is understood to have taken in part payment acreage owned by Mr. Swett southwest of this city, on which he realized a considerable advance on the purchase price paid a few years ago when he commenced important realty operations in association with a number of eastern friends in the Katella vicinity.

As compared with the prices prevalent on lands in the neighborhood seven years ago, the percentage of increase in value has been as large as that made in Anaheim. Mr. Swett, who is a retired banker, will make his home on the property acquired on West Center street and will improve the spacious grounds and the buildings. Dr. Beebe will erect a residence on South street at a cost of $10,000 or more, which he will occupy.

School Teachers
The Anaheim school district this year employs twenty-five teachers and the four school buildings hold upwards of 600 students. Before the year is over the total registration will doubtless reach the 800 mark.

The total registration last year was 750, and the average attendance was 589. In the year 1909-1910 sixteen teachers were in charge of the school in three buildings. The next year there were eighteen teachers in three buildings and two outside buildings were rented to make room for the overflow. Last year the old high school was secured and four teachers were added to the number, making a total of twenty-two teachers. This year another teacher was put on at Katella and a room added to this building to accommodate the increased number of students.

In addition, there are four special teachers employed for music, drawing, domestic science and manual training, and Prof. J. L. Van Deever, supervising principal with office in the Fremont school building. At this building, affairs are conducted upon an entirely different plan than in previous years. All work is carried on under departmental plans. The school day is divided into periods of a half-hour each and at the close of each period, teachers change rooms, each teaching a special subject to each of the rooms in turn.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make it Grow

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyck's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you a money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance. Rowley Drug Company.—Advertisement.

TO PRESERVE GOOD ROADS

Now that we have provided for good roads in this county, that a state highway is to be built, that all the counties of the state that have not already done so will, as Orange county has done, provide funds for a comprehensive lateral and connecting system, it behooves us to think about the maintenance expense account.

There is no material waste, no loss of public funds so useless, no impairment that could be so easily avoided, as the destruction of our public highways. We have our good road organizations that meet and deliberate, our enthusiasts that write and speak on plans for construction and betterment, but you rarely see or hear anything on the preservation of public roads. Very few taxpayers stop to examine the expense of the repairs of our highways. This tax is becoming the largest of our ever increasing tax levies.

During a recent visit in Indiana, the writer heard a public speaker say the expenditure for the repairs on roads exclusive of bridges in Decatur county is above $55,000 yearly and that, too, when there is more than two hundred and fifty miles of turnpike, more than one-half of which is practically new. When the roads of the county are all improved, the speaker said, it will require $75,000 annually to keep them in good repair. At this rate the ninety-two counties of the state would on the present basis, have an annual expenditure of $6,900,000.

Seventy-five per cent of this could be saved to the taxpayers by putting into practice regulations that obtain in other countries that have what might be termed "imperishable roads." France of all the countries has the best constructed and the best maintained highways. If her traffic were as untrammelled as the traffic in this country is, her roads would soon be in no better condition than the average roads we have.

The one thing needed to prevent this useless, unnecessary waste is to regulate the width of the tires on each class of vehicles according to the weight of the load that it carries. This regulation France enforces strictly. Her heavier wagons have tires six inches or even broader for some of the loads. The rear wheel of the wagon must not track with the front wheel and instead of destruction we have with our heavy traffic, every heavy load drawn over the roads of France rolls from twenty-four to thirty-two inches of surface.

The average county in California has, let us say for purpose of illustration, about two thousand heavy or farm wagons. Twenty-five thousand dollars would equip them with six-inch tires. If this were done each county would save in money expended on our roads that amount annually. If any county in the state were owned and operated by a corporation as it is by the public, present conditions would be changed at once. If conditions are once as they are in England, France and Germany we should not only have the perfect highways that would be a delight to travel over, but we should have double the capacity of our heavy wagons using the same drawing power. The farmer would draw to market twice the amount of grain, or fruit, or bees, using the same team that he now uses, and could go at any season of the year.

The value of wide tires is painfully apparent in this county on the roads over which beets and lime rock are hauled to the sugar factories and over which beet pulp is hauled away from them.

As to the manner of controlling the situation, a vehicle tax would likely and most easily and effectively reach all kinds of conveyances. Make the tax on the wider tire nominal and on the heavier wagons with narrow tires so great that the burden of it would compel the change. Why can we not learn something of other countries? Why can we not use business methods and exercise a little common sense in the preservation of our roads?

Flagged Train With Shirt

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at all druggists.—Advertisement.

FUNERAL OF W. C. CRAWFORD HELD YESTERDAY

In the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives who had come to pay tribute to Will C. Crawford, Rev. Otto S. Russell, assisted by Rev. J. Herndon Garnett, yesterday afternoon at Smith's chapel, performed the rites which closed the earthly life of this well-known and highly esteemed citizen.

Rev. Russell said, during his remarks, that Will C. Crawford was born at Middletown, Iowa, June 23, 1862 and when a young man had married Miss Effie Lindley, also of Middletown. He came to California in 1898 and settled at Tustin, where he made his home for the remainder of his life. Rev. Russell touched on Mr. Crawford's life in the First Baptist church and described his faithful work in raising funds for the new church. He took for his subject: "In the Days of Prosperity Be Joyful, and in the Days of Adversity Consider," and showed how Mr. Crawford had thought of the life beyond.

Mrs. Frank Harris sweetly sang "He Will Take Care of You" and "Crossing the Bar." The flowers, which were sent in esteem for the dead man and sympathy for his widow, now left alone, were unusually beautiful. The pallbearers were J. T. Wool, I. L. Marchant, John Dunston, H. H. Reeves, E. J. Cranston and E. R. Roehm.

UNKNOWN MAN WAS KILLED BY ENGINE

An unknown white man about 60 years of age was killed by the 12 o'clock Santa Fe passenger train, east bound, at Fullerton.

The man was seated on the track when he was struck. He was a well dressed man but was evidently tramping, for he had with him a bundle of blankets and a cooking outfit. He was slightly grey, smooth faced. The inquest was held by Coroner Winbiger this morning and the body is at W. L. Seale's undertaking parlors in Fullerton, awaiting burial.

SANTA ANA WALNUTS THE BEST TO BE HAD

Big Chicago Buyer Says Car From Here Is the Finest He Has Seen This Year; Association Makes Good

Santa Ana walnuts are famous. Among buyers of walnuts, they are considered the very best. This was demonstrated last year when a San Francisco buyer told his broker to buy no other walnuts as long as Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association walnuts were available. It has been demonstrated again this year.

A letter was written by one of the largest wholesale houses in Chicago, and among the largest in the country, concerning Santa Ana walnuts. As an evidence of this it might be mentioned that a house that will buy ten carloads of walnuts before the season is half over, must be a very large concern. The letter follows: "Office of Steele Wedeles Co., Chicago, Ill."

"Fay Fruit Co., Los Angeles, Cal. Gentlemen:—We take pleasure in informing you that the carload of California walnuts just received, shipped from the Santa Ana Association, Santa Fe car No. 8699, is the FINEST CAR OF WALNUTS WE HAVE SEEN THIS YEAR. "We have had up to date ten cars of No. 1 Soft Shell Walnuts shipped from various points throughout the state, and there isn't a single one of them that will hold a candle to the car that has arrived. "If you will agree to give us Santa Ana walnuts next year shipped from the same locality as the car just received, you can enter our order for two or three cars of the 1913 crop subject to approval of opening price, and if that price is anywhere near reason, you can rest assured we will be glad to approve of them."

PUBLISHER WEST COAST TESTIFIES

Edw. Grafton Says Food and Beds at Soldiers' Home Not of the Best

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Edward L. Grafton, publisher of the West Coast Magazine, was a witness before the Senatorial Committee investigating the condition of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. He said all of the beds were not of the best, and that the beds appeared unclean. He declared the veterans appeared unwilling to complain.

Charles Hamilton, a Spanish war veteran, testified that he left the Home hospital for private treatment, which he deemed necessary.

"Assuring you we greatly appreciate the splendid delivery you made us on our contract, we remain
"Yours very truly,
"STEELE WEDELES CO."

A. C. Tiede, secretary of the Santa Ana Association, says:

"In addition to the above I will say that our brokers who handle walnuts from the other points in the state, report to us that when they want walnuts of a particularly fine quality—when they have to supply a trade that demands fancy walnuts—they ship goods from the Santa Ana Association. This proves two things: First, that we have the soil and climatic conditions to produce the finest quality of walnuts; and second, that they have been properly handled in the packing-house."

It requires care and labor to properly grade, bleach and pack these goods. If the proper attention to the packing is not given, the best quality of nuts will not show up well. Too much importance can hardly be given to the fact that Santa Ana Association goods are among the best in California.

The association is one of the largest in the state, and as such, has the power to improve the condition of the growers of walnuts in this locality. The association this year will handle about $300,000 worth of walnuts. Orange county's crop is worth about $1,000,000.

DR. DANA BARTLETT APPEALS TO WOMEN

Asks 'Club Women to Aid in Raising Working Girls' Wages and Halt Social Crime

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 22.—Following the business part of a recent meeting of the Woman's Improvement Society of this city, a stirring talk was given by Rev. Dana Bartlett of Los Angeles on "Practical Philanthropy."

Dr. Bartlett said that the old charitable order of just giving had passed away, and the era of practical philanthropy was in full swing. He said: "Today we give the down-and-out fellow a chance, making him, however, work out his own salvation with all the spiritual as well as material help we can afford. We give people employment today and a chance to earn an honest living, where formerly we gave them bread and a dollar or two."

"The salvation of the home nowadays is in the hands of the women. If the husbands cannot, or will not, look after their families, the women will; therefore, they should be given the highest possible wage."

Dr. Bartlett asked the women of the club to help him in having the wages of working girls raised, thus preventing much social crime.

TOTS HELD FIRST PLACE

Lincoln School Kindergartners Demonstrated Work; New System Discussed

A large and appreciative gathering of parents and friends greeted the kindergarten tots who had first place on the program of the Parent-Teachers' Association at Lincoln school yesterday afternoon. Under the skillful guidance of the director, Miss Adeline Hill, and her assistants, Miss Mame Havens and Miss Margery McGee, the little folks sang a number of their songs with accompanying motions, and carried out several of their cute little games.

The little folks then adjourned to the first grade room where they were entertained by Miss McGee while Miss Hill explained the aims and purposes of the kindergarten work. She said in part that all their play has a purpose back of it, that of love for the right. The plan as carried out by her thus far this year in their stories, plays and gift lessons, was in about this order: First, greetings to each other and the teacher, then family life, the place and duties of each member of the family; neatness and accuracy; the domestic animals with their habits; fruits, vegetables, and grains and their value to our lives, thus leading up to Thanksgiving.

The ways in which mothers can help, is by sending the children regularly and expressing interest in the little things made by the children.

The Montessori system of child training was then explained by Mrs. J. A. Finley, who had opportunities of studying it somewhat while at Berkeley summer school the past summer, where classes were held each morning. The system is similar in many respects to the kindergarten but develops the child more individually than in classes. Children are practically left alone to do pretty much as they please in attractive surroundings, with plenty of opportunities and materials of absorbing interest close at hand. The senses are highly trained. For instance, spools of silk in eight colors and eight shades of each color train the eyes on colors. Playthings with which to compare weight, shape, size, heat and cold are used. On wooden frames 18 to 20 inches square, strips of bright cloth are fastened and children of three to four years of age learn by means of strings and eyelet holes to lace the strings together. Buttons and buttonholes, hooks and eyes and the tying of ribbon bows are all acquired.

There was no time for discussion of the subject, but Prof. Cranston announced that at the evening Teachers' Institute the advantages and disadvantages of the system would be given by Prof. C. P. Zander of Columbus, Ohio.

Prof. Zander is said to be one of the highest authorities on the Montessori system in this country. He is also an expert on penmanship of which he will treat while here.

On Tuesday evening the local lodge of the Fraternal Union of America met and elected its officers for the coming year: Worthy President, H. H. Ellis; Vice President, Mrs. Dora Spangler; Secretary, Clara McCord; Treasurer, A. C. Williams; Guide, Mrs. H. E. Bradbury; Chaplain, Mrs. T. C. Williams; Inner Guard, W. H. McCord; Outer Guard, Theo. Lacy; Stewards, W. F. Heathman, and F. L. Laund.

After lodge the members enjoyed a splendid time in the banquet room, the honored member being the president of the lodge, J. Wiley Harris. This was a surprise to Mr. Harris, who did not awaken to the fact until his better seven-eighths was ushered into the room by other members of the order. After justice had been done to the supper prepared by the committee, the members wished the happy couple many years of happiness as they said their good nights.

The Santa Ana Farmers' Club meets Saturday evening at the residence of J. A. Wilkes, 2010 Bush street. Subject for discussion, "California Laws Relating to Women." Clyde Bishop has consented to address the club on that subject. All those interested are invited to attend, and a general invitation is extended to all.

AUTUMN WEDDING

Miss Elva Witt Becomes Bride of Floyd Elliott in Pretty Evening Bridal

Miss Elva May Witt, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Witt, 1319 North Main street, was last night united in marriage to Floyd Beverly Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Elliott, of 1409 North Bush. The beautiful ceremony was read by Rev. J. A. Stevenson in the presence of one hundred guests assembled in the handsome Witt home.

The bride presented a charming picture in a lovely wedding gown of white tulle and lace, hand embroidered and made en traine. Orange blossoms caught the floating folds of the bridal veil and the bride carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. She wore no jewels except a diamond bracelet, the groom's gift. Miss Clara Witt, a sister of the bride, was attractive in a pink charm bracelet and carried a basket of pink carnations. Little Velma Miller, a niece of the groom, was the ring bearer, carrying the golden circlet in the heart of a white rose. The groom was attended by Percy Wilson as best man. Miss Anna Witt, a sister of the bride, very beautifully sang "Because I Love You."

During the taking of the marital vows, the bride and groom stood under a white bell on a white fur rug, the property of J. M. Talcott, they being the tenth bridal couple to be married on the handsome rug. The large living room where the ceremony took place was in white and green, pink and green being used in the library and the dining room, where the table decorations were also of the latter tints. The center piece of the bridal table was of carnations and ferns. Festoons of ferns hung from chandeliers to corners of rooms and tables.

Many beautiful gifts were received. Generous checks from the bride's father and grandfather and from the groom's father were among the gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left for San Diego on a wedding trip. On their return they will be at home after Dec. 15, in a beautiful Swiss chalet at 1905 Valencia street, built and furnished by the groom for his bride. Both Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have many friends, the bride being a girl of much charm. Mr. Elliott is a young man of sterling character and is connected with the Griffith Lumber Company.

The wedding march for the bridal event was played by Mr. Doyle, a close friend of the groom, and six girl friends of the bride waited on the guests at the wedding supper. They were, Misses Alice Clausen, Anna Clark, Lillian Rutherford, Winifred Perkins, Lois Park and Margaret Park of Los Angeles.

Classes Met Together The Philathea and Baraca classes of the First Presbyterian church met last night at the home of Miss Adeline Hill, of Stafford and G streets. The young ladies had their fancy work with them and the boys entertained them by reading.

The spacious parlors were thrown together to accommodate the forty guests who immensely enjoyed the splendid fire which glowed in the fireplace, illuminating every nook and corner of the apartments. It was an ideal environment for an autumn evening and the gay young voices and merry laughter lent additional charm to the atmosphere of coziness. Fruit was served from a huge fruit basket and there were toothsome candies besides. Altogether the evening was entirely delightful.

Chafing Dish Party Miss Martha Schildmeyer entertained at her home with a chafing dish party last evening in honor of Miss Helen Hoefler's birthday. Viols were used in profusion, and violet place cards were used on the table where the chafing dish cooking was served. Besides the honoree and hostess, the invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoefler, Miss Alfreda Holzgrafe and Messrs. Arthur Koepsel, Albert Steadman, Fred Schildmeyer.

Held Good Business Meeting At a regular business meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps held at G. A. R. Hall yesterday afternoon, several good reports were read. The treasurer's report was especially pleasing as it showed the profits from the "Old Maids Convention" to be $144 clear.

Sixteen sick calls were made during the month. Mrs. Mary Dunning, treasurer of the Penny Club of the Southern California W. R. C. association, was reported to be slightly improved after a serious illness. Two applications for membership were received and one transfer from San Diego made. Mrs. E. A. Stevens and Mrs. Marie Axt were initiated.

The next meeting of the corps will be held December 5 for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

Two Pleasant Afternoons Section Number Five of the Home Department of the First Methodist Episcopal church was delightfully entertained recently by Mrs. W. L. Barnett, 324 East Walnut street. Conversation and music and delicious refreshments occupied the afternoon hour.

The Home department has been especially active recently, the entertainment at Mrs. Barnett's being followed by another this week. On Wednesday, November 20, Miss Lamb on South Sycamore street gave the Fourth Section of the Home Department a very pleasant afternoon. Several novel games were introduced and light refreshments were served.

Here from Vancouver, B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McMullen of Vancouver, B. C., arrived yesterday to visit the C. P. Kryhls, Mrs. McMullen and Mrs. Kryhl being sisters. The travelers arrived on a very happy day, yesterday being Mrs. Kryhl's birthday, so it was planned beforehand, that there would be a special celebration of the two events in the evening. It was strictly a family affair with the exception of the presence of Miss Pearl Thompson, an intimate friend of the family. Mrs. Will Smith and Mr. and Mrs. George Kryhl were present. The evening was very happily spent.

Mr. and Mrs. McMullen will spend the winter in Southern California.

He urged me to go with him, and I did.

"When the shooting was going on in front of the house, I tried to get away, and they chased me. I hid, but they got me."

"I have not worked anywhere here. The first night I got here I got a room at the Arcade, and registered as Harry Williams. I don't know where the two rooming-houses are where I stayed Tuesday night and Wednesday night. I never took part in any other burglary. I don't intend to let my mother know of this. My folks live in Terre Haute. I won't tell their address. My father's name is Williams."

Story is False The story told by Bates is false in nearly every particular.

Rall has been here for several months. He served a term somewhere for stealing a brooch. At one time he worked as cook at the Palace Restaurant, but was soon discharged. He and Coleman, the dead man, have been working together for two or three weeks.

Coleman arrived here with his mother, who brought him here for his health, about three weeks ago. They have rooms on South Sycamore, the first door south of First. The poor woman knew nothing of the son's death until 12:30 today when Sheriff Ruddock, Deputy District Attorney Koepsel and Under-Sheriff Squires went to the house. The mother knew nothing of the young man's criminal acts. Her husband remained at Des Moines to settle business affairs before coming here. His address is 1221 Twenty-first street.

Coleman was a tall, slender man, aged 23, suffering from nervous prostration. He wore a blue serge suit.

The Woman in the Case Today Sheriff Ruddock and his men and City Marshal Jernigan and Constable Jackson were at work on the case.

The sheriff learned that Coleman had often met Mrs. C. E. Walker of Delhi, a woman often noticed standing on the street corner waiting for the Huntington Beach car. She was generally dressed in an extreme fashion, wearing a black velvet dress. The officers had already found in the dead burglar's pocket a card on which was printed, "D. Coleman, detective and investigator."

Arriving at the Walker home at Delhi, the officers began their inquiry. Ruddock, Koepsel, Squires and a newspaper man were present. At that time all that was known of the dead man's identity was that he told P. D. Leonard, Jr., that his name was Walker.

The real C. E. Walker was in bed asleep. He is a big, honest-looking Texan, employed as machinist at the Southern California Sugar factory. At first he could not believe that his wife was mixed up in the affair.

Walker told the officers by all means to search the place. In less than two minutes, a "D. Coleman" card was found. In the woman's handbag was found half a dozen pictures of herself and Coleman, taken recently at Anaheim by Justice Howard, a photographer.

The officers are satisfied that Walker is innocent of any knowledge of the transactions.

He told his wife to tell everything she knew. She told some things that helped clear the atmosphere. She gave Coleman's address, which led to the location of the dead man's mother. She admitted that she had frequently met Coleman at Birch Park. She said she had seen Rall, but two or three times. Coleman told her Rall had served a term in prison for stealing a brooch.

No jewelry was found at the home that looked as though it might be of the stolen articles except a chain and locket. This opened, showed a picture of one of the Walker daughters, and a picture of the slain burglar.

When the officers decided to take this article with them, the woman broke down and cried. She said it was bought for her at Anaheim by Coleman. The officers suspect that it was stolen, and that the woman broke down on that account. Either that or because she wanted it as a keepsake of the dead man.

The officers left with the impression that the woman had not told all she knew. Her husband went with the officers, bent on clearing up whatever points that were possible for him to help clear up. He was with them when they went to the rooming-house at the southwest corner of First and Sycamore, and the officers were shown to the cottage in the rear, where Coleman and his mother have lived.

An elderly, sweet-faced woman met them, and the officers were face to face with the trying experience of having to tell the mother that her son was dead. First, however, Koepsel showed her one of Coleman's pictures, found at Mrs. Walker's home.

"Yes, that is my boy," said the woman. The mother evidently had no idea of her son's occupation or connection with burglaries. She said he had acted a little strangely of late in that he went places without telling her where he had gone.

Not by Necessity Coleman had no need to be a burglar. His father has been retired for twenty years, and Coleman had all the money he could want. His relatives here have suspected ever since he arrived that his mind was not right. He has been suffering from nervous prostration for three years. Coming here, he got into bad company, and his weak will and mind led him to join in the burglaries. That Rall is an ex-convict leads the officers to think Rall the leader.

Sheriff Ruddock has commended Law highly. He says that Law is the most conscientious officer he ever knew, and that Law can be believed for every word he speaks. That is Law's general reputation.

"He had to shoot, and that is all there is to it," said Ruddock. "If I had been in Law's place, I would have done what he did. I am proud of his nerve. When a man can stand up in the face of a revolver and do what he did at the start, I admire his nerve. I am satisfied that Law had to shoot. He thought Bates' life was in danger. That was enough. There were two unexploded cartridges in Coleman's gun."

George L. Bates gives Law Credit for saving his life.

"When running around the house I heard Law call to the man to stop, and I heard him shoot. When the man came face to face with me he aimed at me, and I heard the gun snap."

"I am sorry that I had to take the man's life," said Law. "No one knows how badly I feel about that. But I feel that I did my duty. I saw the man aiming to kill Bates, and I shot to save Bates' life. I want you to give Bates credit for the way he acted. He certainly has nerve."

Mrs. Walker said she knew Coleman in Dallas, Tex. At the corner's inquest this afternoon, Mrs. John Burson, an aunt of Coleman, testified that Coleman was never in Dallas.

City Marshal Jernigan has two suit cases of loot. A suit case stolen from Mrs. William Wagner of Orange is recovered.

It is thought the two men entered a vacant house at 913 South Cypress last night. Jernigan and his men were searching the town when the shooting occurred.

Last night about 2 o'clock someone rang the bell at the home of John Empey on East Pine street, and ran when the light was turned on.

TO SEE HARBOR FROM MARTIN'S AEROPLANE

A survey of Newport Harbor from Glenn Martin's aeroplane was the treat planned for Engineer Bixby of the government corps, this afternoon. The engineer is here on business connected with the proposed improvement of the bay, and the idea occurred to W. A. Zimmerman, one of the chief harbor boosters, that a view of the bay from the air would give an impressive idea of its advantages. Martin readily concurred in the scheme, and it was arranged that the flight be made this afternoon if conditions were favorable.

Martin also expected to give a flying lesson this afternoon to Florence Seidel, the Santa Ana woman who expects to become a professional aviatrix.

The "Mexican Problem" Is A Menace to Health, Moral and Financial Welfare

RIVERSIDE IS SOUNDING ALARM

Present Day Club Considers Condition in That City
Serious

QUESTION OF VITAL IMPORTANCE HERE

Social and Sanitary Phases no
Less Striking Than Economic

While the Santa Ana Present Day Club was discussing evolution, last Monday evening, the Present Day Club of Riverside was discussing a question of vital interest and importance, not only to Riverside, but to Santa Ana and Orange county in particular, and to all Southern California.

The Mexican problem has presented itself in Orange county very forcibly in its economic phase. Fully 75 per cent of the criminal and indigent costs of this county are chargeable to the vicious and ignorant element of our Mexican population. Of course the social and sanitary phases of the problem are closely allied and indeed directly involved in its economic phase.

In a featured editorial in the Riverside Enterprise of Tuesday, under the heading, "Menacing Our Health," we find this:

"Southern California is passing through a period more or less hysterical in its study of the problem of taking care of the horde of immigrants who are expected to arrive in 1915, with the completion of the Panama canal. This is a timely topic and well worthy of proper legislation, but there is a problem that affects Riverside more vitally. From across the Mexican line are arriving the bedraggled, diseased, poorly-fed Mexicans, cholera and peons, coming in ever-increasing numbers to the border districts and working along to interior cities. They have already arrived in Riverside in sufficient numbers to cause serious worry on the part of doctors and charity workers, who have seen little huts crowded with a score or more ill-fed, diseased men, women and children. Trachoma and many other diseases are prevalent among these people, and their presence makes them a menace to the public health.

"The loathsome conditions of squalor in which they exist are known to but few Riverside citizens. Living in comfort and the apparent security of clean, wholesome homes, our people should realize that it is just as important to meet the problems that are at hand as to worry about what may be thrust upon us when the immigrant hordes of Europe are turned toward California shores.

"Federal examination of the Mexican invasionists should be more strict, the health boards of our cities should be more watchful, or there will come a period of infection and contagion that will seriously affect this fair southland. The wretched conditions surrounding Mexican children, many of whom are allowed to roam about at will and come in close proximity to American children, are so serious that our physicians and charity workers are becoming alarmed.

"Our insane institutions, jails, county and city hospitals are being filled with a large percentage of these Mexicans. They are the victims of an unstable and badly disorganized government that is unable to take proper care of them. They naturally turn to a country in which many of their countrymen have been befriended and live in comparative comfort as contrasted with the unspeakable conditions that exist in many portions of Mexico.

"There is no reason why Riverside, the city beautiful, should wink at these things. They are with us to a degree that many thinking people will not believe until they investigate for themselves. The Enterprise believes that it is a time for a strengthening of the health department and a searching and adequate investigation, with an early report of every detail to be made to the common council, leading to the taking of some drastic steps for the preservation of our health."

"Startling Conditions Here
Under this heading the Riverside Enterprise thus summarizes its report of the Present Day Club meeting in Riverside last Monday:

"A ringing indictment was made against unspeakable conditions that exist in the Mexican quarter of Riverside by Rev. Horace Porter and Geo. E. Tucker, M. D., at the meeting of the Present Day Club last night, in which the former told of unspeakable conditions of poverty, filth, degradation, furnitureless homes, women giving birth to babes while lying on the bare ground; and Dr. Tucker telling of the influx of Mexicans across the border, carrying, even to the fair city of Riverside, which is without a health officer, such contagious and infectious diseases as trachoma and living in pest-holes that are breeding places of the germs of tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid and other diseases. All of which was a side issue from the main topic of the evening, but created no little interest on the part of the wide-awake audience of thinking citizens."

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold, Ely's
Cream Balm Will Stop it in the Sneezing Stage

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectively check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless. Rowley Drug Company.—Advertisement.

PENSION FOR PRESIDENTS

Ex-Heads of Nation to be Offered
$25,000 Annually
From Carnegie Fund

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Following a meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Foundation, held in the house of Andrew Carnegie yesterday, it was announced that it had been decided to offer pensions to the future ex-presidents of the United States and to the unmarried widows of ex-presidents. The offer will be made to those entitled to it without application being made. The announcement covering this part of the meeting is as follows:

"Provision has been made through this corporation for a pension for each future ex-president and his widow, unmarried, of $25,000 per year as long as these remain unprovided for by the nation, that they may be able to spend the latter part of their lives devoting their unique knowledge of public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary cares. These pensions will be promptly offered to the ex-presidents or their widows so that no applications will be required from them."

Under the terms of the announcement, President Taft, when he retires on the fourth of next March, will be offered $25,000 by the Carnegie Corporation.

The question of making provision for our ex-presidents has been one widely discussed with suggestions that congress pass a bill providing for them. The action taken today, however, is the first definite step looking to their financial independence after their leaving office.

The meeting today was the second annual one that the corporation has held. There were present: Andrew Carnegie, Elihu Root, Henry S. Pritchett, Robert S. Woodward, Charles L. Taylor, William N. Frew, Robert A. Franks and James Bertram, the latter Mr. Carnegie's secretary.

MEXICAN REBELS QUITTING THE JOB

They are Facing Starvation so
Have to Leave Ranks of Rebellion

Los Angeles Tribune: Fresh from the war zone in Northern Mexico, M. Fairburn, resident manager of one of the largest cotton plantations in the Southern Republic, arrived recently in Los Angeles and registered at the Alexandria. Fairburn is manager of the Compania del Tlahualilo, 12 miles from Chihuahua.

"Conditions in Northern Mexico," said Fairburn, "are gradually assuming a peaceable state, not because the warlike spirit is not rampant, but because the rebels are losing support. Thousands of them are unarmed and starvation has thinned their ranks. Of conditions in the southern part of the country I know very little, but in the northern districts the rebels are scattered in small bands and are being pursued by federal troops whenever they can be located."

At the outbreak of the rebellion against the Madero government Fairburn and those employed on his ranch were between the fires of both armies and much of the property of the ranch was destroyed.

12 LOS ANGELES MEN GET ALIMONY

Census Figures Show That 74
Men in United States Receive Support From Wives

Los Angeles Examiner: Sh-h! Listen to this. There are twelve men in Los Angeles receiving alimony. That's the bit of gossip that Uncle Sam is peddling about.

Census figures received yesterday in this city disclosed that in this divorce state alimony works more or less frequently both ways. For there are seventy-four men in California who are drawing money from their ex-wives.

No, the names are not given. You may guess and guess, but Uncle Sam is protecting the information that was given to the census enumerator.

Colorado Has Still More

In the other prominent divorce state, Colorado, even a larger number of men are on the alimony pay roll. There ninety-nine men succeeded in having their wives pay for the putting on of "ex." There are some of the other alimony reverse states and their figures:

Montana, 21; Idaho, 29; Wyoming, 13; New Mexico, 3; Arizona, 15; Utah, 74; Oregon, 82.

Middle West Big Field

Most of the divorce cases, in which the husband rather than the wife receives alimony, have taken place in the Middle Western states. Ohio is the leader, the courts of that state, having granted 673 husbands divorces and instructed their former wives to pay yearly certain sums of money toward their support.

It is an everyday occurrence, particularly in Los Angeles, to see in the papers that a woman—not one, but many of them—have obtained a divorce with alimony, but somehow the fact that a hundred men have obtained blessings in the same form has not been proclaimed.

Wisconsin Is Second in the number of her male citizens who are "supported" by their divorced wives, the number in that state being 566. New York state is away down the list, with but sixty-one such persons. Every state in the Union with two exceptions, Delaware and South Carolina, has had more than two divorce cases in which the husband was granted alimony.

SANTA ANA HAS EXCELLENT RECORD

Comparison With Larger City
Shows Building Activities
Far in the Lead Here

MANY PERMITS FOR MAKING HOUSES OVER

One of Big Things of Last Year is Installation of Sewers in South End

In the last week Secretary Metzgar of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce noticed an item in a Los Angeles paper sent from San Bernardino in which joy was expressed over the showing made by San Bernardino building permits since January 1. San Bernardino boasts of fifty per cent more population than Santa Ana. Metzgar added up the totals for the months since January 1, and found that up to November 15, Santa Ana had issued permits totaling $550,250, which was equal to the total of San Bernardino for the same period.

"I call that showing a most excellent one," said Metzgar. "We are doing as much building as San Bernardino, and San Bernardino is a larger place than this."

Indeed this has been a good year for building. There has been a considerable advance over last year, though last year was the best in the history of the city. Taking the building and the amount of money spent in street improvements, and 1912 is going to be the banner year by $200,000.

The progress of the year cannot be measured in figures. The entire city shows an improvement. Yards are kept in first-class condition. Many of the older houses of the city have been made over into attractive dwellings.

Building activities of that kind show prosperity, for a man is not likely to spend money remodeling his house unless he is doing well in his business. If he is short of money the needed changes in the house will go over to another year. That being a fact and a standard to go by, certainly Santa Ana has had a year of remarkable prosperity, for this year has seen a large number of permits issued for remodeling of houses.

One of the big things of the year is the installation of the sewer system for the south end. As yet the mains only have been laid, but it will be but a short time now until the laterals are in, and houses may be connected with the sewer.

Among the new dwellings begun in the last week are a $1000 five-room bungalow for Mrs. E. Staplin at 202 West First street, with Hoosier & Miller contractors; an $1800 six-room bungalow at 610 South Birch for Fred Chapman, with W. S. Elliott contractor; $1000 five-room bungalow at 924 West Chestnut for A. G. McGowan, with R. Engle contractor.

In the last ten months there has been a big improvement in the appearance of Fourth street and Main street, the two principal business streets of the city. One of the things that has gone far to better the appearance of the streets is the fact that many property owners have put new fronts in their stores.

It is a noticeable fact that new fronts in stores also means better window dressing. Santa Ana's business houses keep their window displays up in excellent shape. Anyone going along the street and examining the windows will be impressed with the fact that the city's stock of goods is most excellent, and that the prices are even better than Los Angeles prices.

Old Ten-Acre Ranch, Well Improved, Brings Arthur West $20,000

Orange News: A straight price of $2000 an acre was the sum brought by a local ranch which changed hands yesterday on one of the largest of recent real estate transactions.

The ranch in question was Arthur West's ten-acre orange grove, upon which he had made his home for the last thirty-eight years, at McPherson. It is a fine place, set mostly to full bearing Valencia oranges. The purchase price was $20,000 and the buyer is Mr. J. W. Briggs of Santa Ana. The sale was made through the agency of the Schaffert Realty Company.

Mr. West will give immediate possession of the ranch. It is his intention to retire from ranching and move to Orange, where he owns property.

STATE'S SURVEY THIS COUNTY IS DONE

Engineers Finished Taking
Measurements for State
Highway This Week

MAY LET CONTRACTS
IN THREE MONTHS

Stakes are all Set—Part of McBride's Cut-off Used by the State Men

The surveyors employed by the State Highway Commission completed the survey through Orange County this week, and have departed to other parts of the state highway.

The line is run and the stakes are set for the portion of the main highway through Orange County.

The first part of the road surveyed in this county was from the south county line to a point near Serra. The surveyors then moved to Santa Ana, and ran the line from Santa Ana to the county line at La Habra. They then returned to the south end of the county and on Wednesday of this week ran their line into Santa Ana, coming in on East Fourth street.

A part of the road between Serra and the south county line was re-surveyed at the suggestion of County Surveyor McBride, who indicated a way for straightening the road and making it shorter. For about a mile the road will run on the mesa close to the shore where it is now back on the mesa about a mile, and it will then take to the mesa well away from the shore.

The state highway employees estimate that it will be two or three months before the data gathered by the surveyors can be worked up so that the contractors can bid. The notes are completed, and no further measurements will be taken, but with the office help available the work of going over the notes will proceed slowly. It is possible that within four months bids will be received for a part of the highway in this county.

CHILD'S LEGS BROKEN IN FALL OF A TANK

Anaheim Gazette: The two-year-old son of A. W. Cavanaugh sustained a fracture of both legs above the knee Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, by the collapse of a 3000-gallon tank, which had been filled with water. The tank stood on stilts 14 feet above the ground. The child was playing under it, when his father hearing the timbers cracking and fearing the tank would fall, called to him to run out of harm's way. The little one immediately arose and ran towards his father but was caught by the outer rim of the tank as it fell, pinning him to the ground, breaking both legs as stated and drenching him with water.

Mr. Cavanaugh ran at once to the assistance of his child, extricated him from under the debris of the demolished tank and carried him into his home. A physician was hastily summoned who found no other injury. The child will probably recover.

Mr. Cavanaugh lives with his family in a house formerly occupied by Madame Mojaska on Placentia road a short distance north of the continuation of East Center street.

Don't use Butter in Your Kitchen

DO you know why butter is so high? Housewives from years of habit have come to use more and more of it for particular cooking—where they want something better than lard. It's a wasteful habit—highly expensive—and wholly unnecessary.

Use butter on your table, where it belongs; discard it from your kitchen. The use of Cottolene in cooking, will give just as good results as butter. Besides, two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a pound of butter, and Cottolene costs no more than lard. Use more Cottolene and cut down your butter bill.

Cottolene

Makes Delicious Pastry

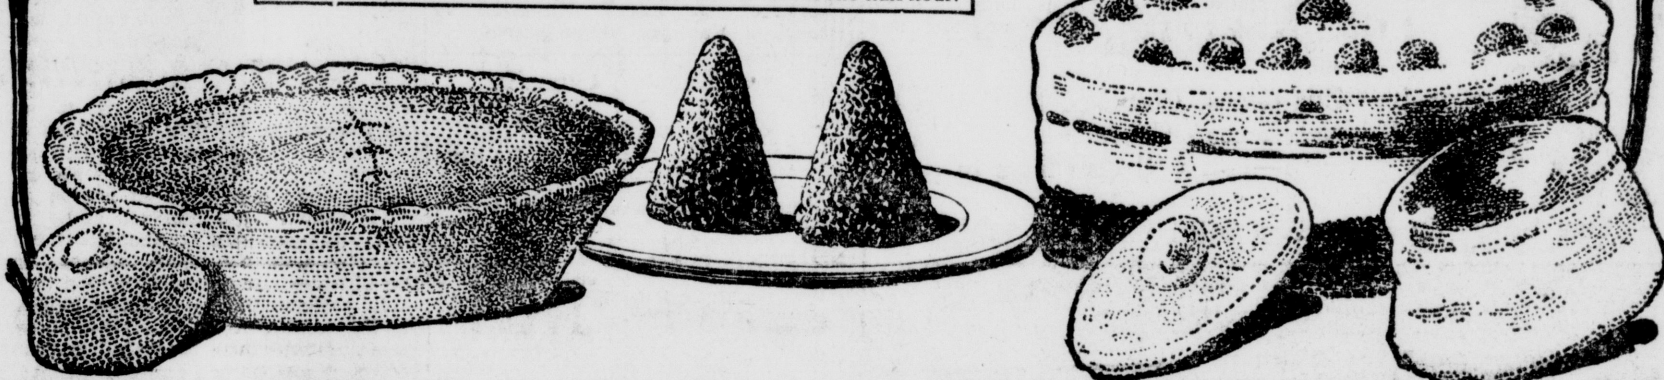

Cottolene makes light, flaky, crisp pie-crust. It makes deliciously light, tender doughnuts. For cake making Cottolene creams up beautifully and gives the best obtainable results. Muffins, fritters, short cake, and all other pastry, are best made when made with Cottolene. It makes food rich but never greasy.

Cottolene is a vegetable product, and makes food that is healthful and digestible.

Try This Recipe:

ONE EGG CAKE
1/2 cup of Cottolene	1 egg	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar	1 cup milk	1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar		2 cups flour

Rub the Cottolene and sugar to a light cream, add well beaten yolk of egg and vanilla, mix together the soda, cream of tartar and flour, stir it into the creamed mixture, alternating with the milk. Add well beaten white of egg last. Bake in shallow pan in moderate oven about one-half hour.

TO RENT ROOMS FOR COMMERCIAL CLUB

Huntington Beach News: An effort is being made by H. L. Heffner of the Huntington Beach Company and other leading business men of this city to build or rent suitable rooms in which to house a commercial club. It is planned to equip the rooms with pool and billiard tables, a piano, reading room and many conveniences so that men whose days are fully occupied with affairs may have an attractive and comfortable place of resort in the evenings. The lack of other amusements in this city would make a commercial men's club a real source of pleasure and innocent pleasure to its members and guests. The plan is gradually taking shape and may materialize in the near future.

Sister Says Illness Due to Heart Disease; Says Reports
Were Not Correct

Mrs. A. E. Wood of 841 North Broadway has received a letter from C. Percival Garratt's sister, Mrs. E. R. Boyden of Los Angeles, asking her to inform Mr. Garratt's friends in this city that his condition is temporary. She says her brother is now in a hospital at Santa Fe, New Mexico, but will leave in a few days for California, it being the doctor's opinion that he will recover immediately upon getting back to sea level.

Mrs. Boyden informed Mrs. Wood that the published stories as to Prof. Garratt's collapse in Santa Fe were quite incorrect. She states that he collapsed soon after reaching Santa Fe and was unable to even undertake the organ recital at the Scottish Rite temple which he was scheduled to give. His attack arose from heart disease which was much aggravated by the high altitude, a well known result in cases of heart trouble.

Mrs. Boyden declares that Mr. Garratt will recuperate rapidly as soon as he reaches the lower altitudes.

STOMACH SOUR? GOT INDIGESTION ALSO?

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes
Upset Stomachs Feel Fine
in Five Minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.—Advertisement.

BIG WILD ANIMAL SHOW COMING HERE

Advance Agent Wm. K. Peck was in town yesterday to make arrangements for the only real wild animal show in the world to give two performances here on Friday, December 6.

In a few days the publicity car will arrive and further advertise this peerless attraction. It is not the old time circus with its many tiresome aerial acts, but the biggest and best wild animal show which has ever visited this vicinity. Every animal known to the kingdom of wild beasts performing feats which fall little short of the impossible. To gain some idea of the enormity it takes twenty-five extra length cars to convey them around the country; and acres of canvas to house them. Three hundred and fifty wild and domestic animals, three hundred employees, three arenas in the big top, the center of which contains a mammoth steel arena, where all the wild animal acts take place, scores of brilliantly decorated wagons for the street parade and the greatest show, both as an educational and amusement value, known to the amusement lovers of the country.

Through the personal supervision of Mr. Barnes the show is conducted upon the most refined and courteous principles with the one thought for the safety of the ladies and children. Mr. Peck states that those who are fond of the best amusement should not miss this opportunity. There will be two performances, afternoon and evening with a monster parade at 10 a. m.

COL. HOGGATT CLOPTON DIED ON WEDNESDAY

Huntington Beach News: Col. Hoggatt CLOPTON, who had resided here for a number of years but recently removed to Los Angeles, died at his home there Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at the Overholzer undertaking parlors Saturday morning. Rev. Mr. Schellenberger of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian church of Los Angeles officiating, assisted by Rev. E. J. Harlow of the local Christian church. Deceased leaves a son, Hugh, and a daughter, Miss Pearle, both now residents of Los Angeles. Interment will occur at Los Angeles, on Saturday.

Col. CLOPTON was well known in this country, and lengthy and involved litigation relating to his property, during the past five years, had made his name familiar in the courts. He was a Tennessean, a member of a well-known family in that state, and had served with distinction in the Civil War. He was past eighty years of age at the time of his death.

Crowded house last night at the Bell clearly shows that Santa Ana amusement seeking public fully enjoys that which is good in entertainment, be it large or small, and Manager Roberts can be justly proud of the effort put forth in his many ways of announcing the Great Bernhardt Pictures, with the regular three reel show. Many expressed that it was more than they could hope for "to see Bernhardt and not hear her, than to see and hear her and not understand her." Tonight the same program will be given at 7 and 9 o'clock, with the usual Bell prices, and it is your last opportunity. This afternoon a large turnout attended the matinee, and every one was more than pleased. Coming for Saturday and Sunday a complete new show with vaudeville and pictures.

IMPORTANT BEARING OF SUGAR BEET CULTURE ON THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

DOCUMENT OF VERY GREAT INTEREST

National Economy As Affected by Increased Yield of Other Crops When Grown in Rotation With Sugar Beets

High Yield of Cereals in European Beet Regions Dated From Introduction of Rational Sugar Beet Culture

Until recently, outside of scientific agricultural circles, it was a generally accepted conclusion in the United States that sugar-beet culture injured the soil. Farmers so contended, and so universal was the contention that factory managements were compelled to concede that the farmers were right. Certain it was that after having been planted to beets several successive seasons, fields yielded a lower tonnage with each succeeding year.

While the Department of Agriculture pointed out many advantages of sugar-beet culture and urged farmers to engage in it, various agricultural weeklies advised their readers that whatever might be the tonnage-per acre and whatever the price of beets per ton, they could not afford to engage in beet culture as it soon would destroy the productivity of their fields and ruin the value of their farms.

Some ten years ago I read in a country weekly the first detailed statement I have seen which purported to show in bushels per acre, just how much sugar-beet culture increased the yield of other crops when grown in rotation with them. The article gave with much particularity the result of a series of experiments which it was claimed had been conducted in Germany, and showed that sugar-beet culture greatly improved the soil. Although unsigned, it bore evidence of sincerity and I republished it in a short history of the beet-sugar industry, only to be met with expressions of incredulity.

Feeling that we in the United States might have failed to discover the magnet which induced the nations of Europe to favor the beet-sugar industry to a far greater extent than they favored other industries, I went there to study conditions at first hand and to verify or disprove the statement contained in the country weekly above noted. I searched for reports of recent experiments on the subject, but was told that there were none; that the facts had been definitely determined many years ago and that there was no more occasion for making such experiments now than to make a re-survey of the distance between Berlin and Vienna—both had been determined beyond question; even the trade press had ceased to give space to it; for decades every European agriculturist had recognized sugar-beet culture as the father of modern scientific agriculture, the keystone to the arch.

It thus became necessary to search for the works of earlier authors. In these works and in conversation with agricultural economists and sugar-beet growers, I discovered the cause of all our trouble, the one reason why the experience of American sugar-beet farmers gave contrary results to those obtained throughout the sugar-beet districts of Europe. American farmers were growing beets on the same soil, year after year, their only thought being "so many tons of beets per acre at so much per ton," whereas, since learning of the indirect value of sugar beet culture, European farmers use them as a means to increase the yield of other crops rather than for their direct money value, and in order to spread the benefits over as great an area as possible they plant beets on the same soil but one year in three to five. From time to time, this information since has been placed before American sugar beet farmers, and now, by practical experience, many have learned of the value of sugar-beet rotation and are enthusiastic over the results obtained.

If announcement were made that an Edison or a Burbank had discovered a means whereby each acre in the United States which is devoted to cereal crops could be made to yield two bushels where they now yield but one, regardless of any reasonable expense which might be involved, the discoverer would be greeted as the world's greatest public benefactor, the one who had solved the problem of the high cost of living.

In view of the fact that there are five big beet sugar factories in Orange county the accompanying article is of much interest and importance to Register readers. It effectually refutes the oft-expressed opinion that large areas of the lands of this county will be impoverished, rendered unproductive, utterly ruined, by beet-growing—provided only that crops of other kinds shall be properly rotated with beets. It shows that such rotation will not only prevent the ruin of the land, but that it will increase the soil's productivity amazingly for beets and other crops as well.

This article is a summary of a 67-page pamphlet just issued by the government, entitled "Sugar at a Glance." The charts and data for this pamphlet were prepared by Truman G. Palmer, who, in transmitting them to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, says:

"In preparing the charts and tables herewith the official figures of the various nations to which they relate have been used as a basis, wherever government figures were available.

"Where government figures were not available, the figures of European and American statisticians and statistical societies of established repute have been used, wherever possible.

"Where the above mentioned sources had not covered the ground, the charts are based on data gathered on various study trips through the beet fields and sugar factories of the United States and those of the large and small European sugar-producing countries and from personal contact with agricultural economists.

"Having devoted fifteen years to the study of the influence of sugar-beet culture on its relation to national economy and the cost of living, and having exercised the utmost care in making and checking the various conversions, I feel justified in stating that no substantial error has crept into the work.

"Being drawn to scale the charts convey an accurate impression of the subjects presented."

This is a public document entitled, as already stated, "Sugar at a Glance," by Truman G. Palmer. Its official number is 890, and it is a Senate issue, by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. It can probably be procured by writing to Senator Lodge or to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The Register has written for information on this point and will publish it as soon as it is received.

discovery was made a century ago and was heralded and utilized by the leading nations of Europe, with the result that their worn out soils have been so rejuvenated that now they produce two bushels of grain where formerly they produced but one. But for the fact that Europe learned to rotate her cereal crops with a hoed root crop and thereby doubled her acreage yield of cereals, European nations still would be encouraging and assisting emigration because of inability to feed their increasing population.

Strange as it may seem, this important discovery has not been exploited in the United States. With few exceptions American writers on agricultural topics seem to have been totally oblivious both as to the cause and of the fact that the "worn out soils of Europe" have been so built up that they now produce two bushels of grain where the virgin soils of the United States produce but one. In their ignorance, some American writers even advise our farmers against adopting the very method which has revolutionized agriculture in Europe. And so it follows that American farmers have not profited by it and their yields per acre remain practically stationary, while the crop yields of the balance of the world increase from year to year. During the past thirty years the combined average yield per acre of wheat, rye, barley and oats in the United States has increased but 6.6 per cent, while the acreage yield of the same crops in Germany has increased 80 per cent during the same period.

Experience in the United States and throughout Europe demonstrates conclusively that the introduction of a hoed root crop in the rotation one year in four is a prerequisite to heavy yields of cereal crops. Even though a farmer applies no science to his work save that of devoting his fields to a root crop one year in four, he will reap more bushels per acre of all cereal crops than will the farmer who avails himself of all known scientific agricultural knowledge but fails to introduce a hoed root crop in his cycle of rotation.

The opening of the Panama Canal, the deepening of our inland waterways, the building of good roads, the establishment of a credit system whereby American farmers may secure loans at a low rate of interest, these and other projects are offered as solutions to the high cost of living problem, but it is obvious that important as are all of these projects, their combined influence would reduce the cost of living but slightly in comparison to what it would be reduced if without additional expense, our farmers were enabled to produce two bushels of grain where they now produce one.

While the writings of Cato and Pliny and other ancient agricultural writers indicate that the art of root crop rotation was practiced 2000 years ago, Great Britain has the distinction of being the first country in modern times to introduce root culture in rotation with cereal crops as a means of increasing the yield of the latter. For a hundred years the basis of British agriculture has been the turnip. In 1805, Thaeer, the English agriculturist, wrote a book on the subject of root crop rotation with cereal crops and as a result of his teachings and of those who followed him, British farmers increased their plantings of roots from year to year. They now grow 2,000,000 acres of hoed roots, principally turnips, in rotation with 6,500,000 acres of cereal crops, which accounts for their heavy yield per acre. Thaeer's work was translated and placed in the hands of German farmers and for many years German agricultural economists endeavored to induce them to adopt Thaeer's methods, but in vain. Two objections defeated all attempts in this direction. First, it required deep plowing, and deep plowing meant that a new crop of stones would be turned up each year to be hauled off the fields. Second, it meant the introduction of a crop which in itself possessed but little money value, had to be fed instead of sold, and was even less profitable than the crops which they already were growing. They declined to grow it.

A few years later, Napoleon's scientist sugar beets when grown in rotation with cereal crops, and on March 18, 1811, the French Emperor dictated a note to his Minister of the Interior, instructing him to see that 90,000 acres of beets were planted in the different arrondissements the following season, and that the proper officials be appointed to enforce his command. He then appropriated 1,000,000 francs with which to establish schools of instruction and to be given in bonuses to those who erected factories. Although it was a new and unknown crop, the farmers were compelled to plant the beets. At the end of two years, 343 small French factories were producing 7,700,000 pounds of sugar and by 1836, the French sugar product amounted to 40,000 tons while that of Germany amounted to but 1,400 tons. Observing that sugar beets in France revolutionized agriculture by increasing the yield of cereals to an even greater extent than had turnips in England, German economists used every effort to induce their farmers to plant sugar beets. As they had failed to induce their farmers to grow turnips, so did they fail to induce them to grow sugar beets. Finally, they concluded to follow the French plan, and by government aid enable the factories to pay such prices for beets as would coax the farmers to increase their meager plantings. They levied a high rate of duty on imported sugar, and established a system of government bounties on sugar exports, whereby their sugar manufacturers not only were enabled to pay high prices for beets, but to sell their sugar in foreign markets at a price below the cost of production and still make a handsome profit. Immediately, the German sugar industry began to expand and other European nations adopted similar fiscal systems concerning their sugar industry, with the result that today one-half of the world's sugar supply is derived from European sugar beets.

When sugar-beet culture was introduced into Europe, their farmers were practicing what is known as the "three crop system" of rotation—three successive cereal crops, followed by one year of fallowing, the fallowing in order to rest the soil and to enable them to pull out the dense growth of weeds by hand. It is stated that in Germany, approximately one-third of the total area of level land was regarded as being too poor to pay for cultivation, and their yield of cereal crops on the better lands was but 12 bushels per acre.

They were plowing but three to four inches deep, using fertilizers sparingly, and the fertility of the thin layer of loose surface soil all but was exhausted. The grain roots were unable to penetrate the hard soil underneath, and could they have done so, it would have been of no avail, for, containing no humus and not having been aerated, it was not fertile. Being a deep-rooter, a prerequisite to ideal sugar-beet culture is that the soil be stirred to a depth of eight to fourteen inches.

The tender beetlet having to undergo the shock of thinning as soon as it comes up, in order to leave only one beet in a place, demanded a well prepared, mellow seed-bed. Gathering the sugar in its leaves from the atmosphere by the aid of the light and storing it up in the root, the beet would not thrive if the light were cut off through being shaded by weeds, and the eradication of the weeds before going to seed meant not only further stirring of the soil by cultivation and hoeing, but weedless fields for succeeding crops.

Being plowed out in the autumn gave an extra fall plowing, which left the land in condition to absorb instead of shed the fall and winter rains, storing up the moisture for the following season's crops.

With the removal of the main root, myriads of fibrous roots were broken off and left in the soil to an estimated average of a ton to the acre, and in rotting, they not only deposited humus in the lower strata of the soil, but they left minute channels through which it became aerated, and hence fertile. The roots of subsequent crops followed these interstices and drew nutriment from two and three times the depth of soil formerly reached, and hence the farmers doubled or trebled their soil without increasing their acreage.

Strength

The strength of a banking institution consists not alone in its financial resources but also in the character and ability of its officers and directors and in the confidence and loyalty given it by the community of which it is a part. These banks are pre-eminently strong in ALL respects.

Service

The proper conception of a banking institution's duties and privileges includes service to its community. A bank must pay its stockholders a fair rate of interest in order to secure and hold investments in its stock; but its duty does not end here; it must also render REAL SERVICE to its community in the way of public enterprises and private support. These banks point with pride to their records in these respects.

Solvency

A banking institution to be really and truly solvent must have more and other assets than merely money and credits in excess of its money liabilities. It must have a surplus of character, a reserve fund of reputation, a credit balance of experience, large and moral resources. These banks invite examination as to their moral solvency.

has several "kicks coming," and we will make record of them from time to time.

The particular kick at this time is against the practice of turning loose on our streets so much blue smoke from the hind end of automobiles. This blue smoke is not only annoying to everybody (except the party that makes it) but is a menace to health and especially so to those who suffer with any lung or bronchial trouble.

If our city government cannot or will not afford us relief there must be found somewhere else a remedy.

We will have something more to say about this matter later, as we may find time, but just now we are attending to the hardware business and it keeps us fully occupied "Buying and Selling" and working out the daily problems that must be met and solved each day.

We were fortunate in buying a large lot of corrugated galvanized iron and water pipe before the recent advance in price. We compete with the Los Angeles market.

OLD NEWPORT NEWS BUDGET

OLD NEWPORT, Nov. 20.—There will be a program at the church Friday afternoon, Nov. 22, at 2:30, for the observance of Home Mission week. This is for everyone in the community, especially the ladies, and a large attendance will be appreciated by those in charge.

The Sunday morning sermon by Wm. J. Burtcher was on "The Hand of Love," I. Cor. 13:13. Three reasons for love being the greatest are because it is of the present; it issues from the heart; and it is the love of God for man is as the palm of the hand and the fingers, always dependent upon the hand, are man's love for inanimate things; for animals, for himself, for mankind, and for God.

A. L. McGowan of Santa Ana preached last Sunday at the schoolhouse to a fair sized congregation, both morning and evening. Next Sunday, Nov. 24, E. B. Funkhouser of Long Beach will conduct the services at the Church of Christ.

Last Friday evening was a time of merriment and fun. The schoolmates of Miss Clare Walton, planned and successfully carried out a surprise for her. She knew nothing of it until the crowd was at the door. The evening was spent in games and conversation until refreshments of cake, cocoa, fruit, nuts and candy were served.

Miss Anne Segerstrom and Miss Edna Meyers spent Tuesday afternoon with Misses Ethel and May Walton at their home.

Mrs. J. B. Lockett spent last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. D. W. Ellis. Mr. Lockett went on a business trip to Olive the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ould went to Garden Grove last Tuesday on business, and also called upon their deaf-mute friend, Miss Miller, of that place.

The Misses Anne and Ester Segerstrom, and Ethel and May Walton spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eden of Orange, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Ould, the day being the thirty-third anniversary of their marriage. They were the recipients of some very choice gifts. Mr. Eden is connected with the Orange Abstract & Title Guaranty Co.

Miss Ruth Armstrong spent Wednesday of this week shopping in the many attractive stores of Los Angeles.

Jas. Harlin of Los Angeles, spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of his brother, W. J. Harlin.

Frank Bradbury is moving his family and household effects to his own place west of Fairview this week.

Mrs. J. D. Hunton and daughter, Jewel, went to Orange Saturday for the week-end with Mr. Hunton's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McClintock and daughter, Lois, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tedford, returned Sunday night from their trip to San Francisco. They report fine weather during their stay and an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunton, Miss Emma Hunton of Orange, and Miss Ora Young attended the play at the opera house Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harlin went to Long Beach Sunday to visit Henry Marsh and family. After an early lunch the party motored to Los Angeles and Whittier, returning in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Merritt and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McFadden and baby, motored to Whittier via Long Beach, Sunday.

The friends of R. H. Obarr, pastor of this church three years ago, will be pleased to learn of the arrival of a fine baby boy, Wilfred Darby Obarr, on Nov. 12 at Harper, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walton and son, Johnny, and Mrs. J. B. Lockett and family, of Santa Ana, motored to Laguna last Sunday afternoon.

H. McFadden of Lower California, is visiting at the home of his brother, Edwin McFadden, and family.

Porto Rico's New Wonder

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marcan, of Barceloneta, writes "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles there is nothing better. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c & $1.00. GLENN RANCH IS
WILLED TO YOUNG MEN FOR KINDNESS

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 22.—The kindness of Douglas Champion and Theodore T. Harper, well known young men of this city, to Mrs. Ruth Ellen Applewhite, a pioneer of the mountains, who passed away here recently, won for them the famous Glenn ranch near Keenbrook, valued at $50,000. In the will of the aged woman, filed here Tuesday the two young men are left the bulk of her estate.

Champion has been cared for since childhood by Mrs. Applewhite, although he was no relative. Harper is a nephew, and for his many kindnesses during the last months of her life Mrs. Applewhite bequeaths to him half of the ranch.

To relatives, Mrs. Applewhite left sums ranging from $250 to $500.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

It was rumored yesterday that there might be an advance in banana prices owing to a hurricane destroying some of the plantations in the West Indies. However, Luigi Del Orto of the Pacific Fruit Dispatch, says that although he has not received detailed information regarding the damage done, he believes the market will not be affected, as the regions where injury was reported are supply points for eastern sections.

A carload of Italian chestnuts was received. The demand for the nuts is very good. Apple receipts were very light—only fifty-two boxes. Beliefs were offered a little below market quotations in some instances. Winter melons are still quite plentiful and prices remain about the same. Very few Casabas are on the market, and cantaloupes are out. The supply of pineapples is still rather short. Dealers say this is caused by the fruit being temporarily out of season.

Onions were very weak. One sale was made at the rate of 47¢ cents per hundred. Receipts were 900 sacks. Sweet potatoes were offered as low as $1.40 a sack; 118 sacks came in. Receipts of potatoes were 3007 sacks. Cucumbers and chili were firmer.

The market on local ranch eggs was steadier. In fact, some eggs were sold at 45 cents, 1 cent below the market quotation. Other sales were in the main at 46¢. Receipts were fifty-eight cases. Butter was firm; 32,599 pounds came in. There was still some weakness in the cheese market. Northern fresh, Tillamook daisies, imported Swiss wheel and Roquefort were offered below the prevailing quotations.

READ MR. SCHALL'S LETTER

Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 13, 1912.

Geo. J. Birkel Co., Los Angeles, Cal.
Gentlemen:—After careful consideration I have concluded to accept your offer to purchase my entire stock of Pianos, Player Pianos, Player Music, Stools, Benches and Seals. It is, of course, a great disappointment to myself and family that we cannot carry out our plans, establishing a business here, but sickness in my family makes it absolutely necessary for me to return at once to Minnesota. It is for this reason only that I am compelled to accept your offer and act quickly—I personally selected every one of these Pianos and Player Pianos, have sold them for years in my eastern home, know how well they wear and give musical satisfaction—and in turning these instruments over to you, I wish to express my thanks for your prompt action in assisting me to hurriedly adjust my affairs and to recommend these instruments and your very excellent concern to any who may be thinking of buying a real musical instrument.

Respectfully,
(Signed) SCHALL MUSIC HOUSE.

has been introduced, the yield of cereal crops grown in rotation with sugar beets is greatly in excess of the yield in Western Europe, or even in Germany. In 1909, from 200,000,000 acres devoted to corn, wheat, rye, oats and barley, in the United States, crops were produced to the value of $3,000,000,000. Had this area produced as many bushels per acre of each crop as were produced in rotation with sugar beets by the sugar-beet farmers reporting to me, at the same price per bushel their yield would have returned them $6,900,000,000, an increase of $3,900,000,000. That American farmers generally can and will secure such yields if the beet-sugar industry spreads, is certain, and the inevitable result will be a lowering of prices of food commodities, thus dividing the advantage between producers and consumers and materially reducing the high cost of living.

It cost Germany and other European countries large sums of money to develop their indigenous sugar industry, but their extra production of grain and stock and the consequent influence on the price of meats and dairy and cereal products has repaid them many times over.

From 1840 to 1903, when European export bounties were abolished under the terms of the Brussels Convention which was brought about by Great Britain, the German government paid its sugar manufacturers $351,000,000 in export bounties, and so well satisfied were they with the results obtained, that the figures were published in chart form, bearing the legend "Please Hang in a Conspicuous Place," and sent broadcast through the empire. During a period of 63 years it perhaps has cost the German people as much in protective duties as it cost in export bounties, a total of say $700,000,000, but this entire amount is more than repaid each year in the increase of cereals and live stock.

Since adopting this fiscal policy, Germany has produced 54,000,000 tons of sugar, valued at $4,720,000,000, of which there has been exported 26,000,000 tons which has drawn from the balance of the world $2,500,000,000, and Germany now exports sugar to the value of $50,000,000 a year. Having become the greatest sugar producer of the world, Germany, more than any other country, dominates the world price of sugar. The result of European beet-sugar production which, as stated before, now constitutes one-half of the world's supply, has so lowered the price of sugar that based on Magdeburg quotations, the present annual sugar requirements of the German Empire, cost the German people $200,000,000 less than the same amount of sugar could have been purchased for in 1855, thus constituting a saving which in itself repays every four years the entire expense of establishing the industry.

The results of the opposite agrarian policies which have been in constant operation in Germany and Great Britain during the past three-quarters of a century are worthy of consideration by the American people, who consume one-fifth of all the sugar produced in the world.

About the time that Germany began to foster her beet sugar industry, Great Britain was in the throes of debate concerning the abolition of the duties on imports of cereal crops and the adoption of Cobden's free trade policy. At Manchester, in October, 1843, at a public meeting called for the purpose of expounding his theories to the people, Mr. Cobden said:

"I have never been one who believed that the repeal of the corn laws would throw an acre of land out of cultivation. . . . Our object is not to diminish the demand for labor in the agricultural districts, but I verily believe, if the principles of free trade were fairly carried out, they would give just as much stimulus to the demand for labor in the agricultural as in the manufacturing districts."

Five years later, Cobden's theory was adopted and the "corn laws" were abolished. Grain, vegetables, meat and other farm products were transferred from the dutiable to the free list and the British free trade policy was inaugurated.

But Cobden did not prove to be a prophet. In 1841, of the 16,000,000 people of England and Wales, 2,333,000 were engaged in agricultural pursuits, while in 1901, of their 32,500,000 people, but 998,000 were engaged in agri-thirty years, 3,000,000 acres of land have been withdrawn from tillage to cereal crops and laid down to grass, and during the same period, land values, which have doubled and even quadrupled in Germany, have decreased $5,000,000,000 in the United Kingdom, as stated by R. H. Inglis Palgrave, F. R. S., in the Journal of the Royal Statistical Society for March, 1905:

"I have now to sum up the total loss of agriculture during the last 30 years, and will begin with the loss in the capital value. With respect to this, the final report of the commission on agriculture, printed in 1898, records a decline of nearly £1,000,000,000 sterling in the capital value of land in the United Kingdom as having occurred between 1875 and 1894."

While Germany has extended her tilled area and has increased the yield per acre 80 per cent in 30 years, Mr. Palgrave gives the loss in value of crops produced in the United Kingdom during 30 years as $8,000,000,000. He says:

"We have now to attempt to sum up the drop in the value of agricultural produce in the United Kingdom from 1877 onward. I have endeavored to take the difference between the value of the produce each year from 1878 onward, and the amount of £225,000,000 estimated by Mr. Turnbull as the average value from 1872 to 1877. This difference is shown in column 3 of Table I. It amounts in all to £1,647,500,000."

Meanwhile, not having built up a domestic sugar industry, Great Britain has continued to import sugar, largely from Germany, which country, with its export bounties, was able to and glad to sell her surplus sugar at a price below the cost of production, because of the beneficial effect of beet culture on the yield of other crops. While Germany produced nearly $5,000,000,000 worth of sugar from 1840 to 1909, from 1846 to date Great Britain has imported $5,200,000,000 worth of sugar, a large portion of it coming from Germany, and she now imports sugar to the value of $120,000,000 a year, although producing experimentally, richer beets and more beets to the acre than are produced in Germany.

Eliminating the taxation for revenue purposes in both countries, the German people procure their sugar at the cost of German production, plus a profit to German manufacturers, while the people of the United Kingdom pay the German sugar manufacturers the cost of production, plus the German manufacturers' profit, plus German freight to the seaboard, plus German brokerage, plus ocean freight, plus insurance, plus brokerage in the United Kingdom.

That Great Britain is beginning to see the folly of her course, is indicated by the fact that the acreage has been secured, and a beet sugar factory is nearing completion near Yarmouth which will begin making sugar in a few months.

With the marked contrast between the results obtained by these diametrically opposite fiscal policies which have been in uninterrupted operation for 60 years, it ought not to be difficult to determine which course the United States should adopt—the duty on foreign sugar imports, as demanded by the New York sugar refiners, and thereby stop the development of and completely ruin the refiners' only competitor, the domestic beet-sugar industry, or whether it should maintain and perhaps even raise the sugar duties and thus hasten the day when, instead of the people of foreign lands, American farmers and wage earners will receive not only the $100,000,000 now annually sent abroad for the purchase of sugar, but the additional hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of extra yields of other crops which would be produced as a result of the further expansion of sugar beet acreage.
